The present invention relates to a method of electrically conductive connecting a cylinder head cover and a cover part of an engine head in a cylinder head construction of an internal combustion engine such as a diesel engine. Various methods of constructing a cylinder head having a cylinder head cover and a cover part have been known as disclosed in, for example, Japanese Patent Publication Nos. 46-34106, 54-9496 and 57-10461. The known methods involve bending or welding plate members to form the cover part and the cylinder head cover while inserting or welding them together with resiliency, where the resiliency is provided by forming a space between the plate members in the form of a rubber plug or by forming a rib or a groove in the plates. It is also known to provide a space in the form of an oil hole or water hole between the cylinder head cover and the cover part for allowing free passage
