Her latest album "Little Black Rocket" [~$15] is her eighth full length record and she sings and writes the songs the way she lives, simply and freely. She stepped onto the stage at the Highline Ballroom on April 6th with a stomping blast of "Let It Burn" and we couldn't have been more excited. While the show was not new to the crowd, Smith has a keen sense of how to engage and mesmerize a group of people still new to her music. She's fun and expansive in person. In person, and on stage. Smith takes over the stage, slinky and confident and smiling, and the crowd is with her every step of the way. It's rare to see such a young artist take over a crowd in such an assertive way and it's a pleasure to watch her evolve into a leader. When performing her song "Paper Rain" it's impossible not to get caught up in the glorious chorus, "I am a wicked child." It's a moment of unabashed joy and release and as I watch, and later sing, the song, I realize I'm smiling like a dumbass 0cc13bf012
