In Pixel Puzzles, you'll find a collection of puzzling games with puzzles, ranging from easy to hard, with different difficulties and themes.Most of the puzzles are based on vintage jigsaw puzzles, including the likes of traditional 3-D jigsaws, Rubik's Cubes, UFO Jigsaw Puzzles, Coastal Paradise Jigsaw Puzzles and many more! Puzzles will come in one of four difficulty levels with more puzzles to come in the future, with more themes to come as well. You can download to your device and save puzzles, share them with friends and compete with them. Pixel Puzzles is a puzzle game on mobile devices.Lenny McLean Lenny McLean is a New Zealand musician, engineer and producer. McLean came to national prominence in the 1960s when he played bass guitar in the psychedelic rock band The Piemen. They recorded a 45 for KPM, and toured Australia and New Zealand with the Melbourne-based band for an extended period from early 1967 to mid-1968. They then moved to Auckland where they played at the Establishment and the Middle Earth. From the early 1980s to around 1986 he was working as a sound engineer and producer for a number of bands including The City of Wellington's Youth, Macrosevil, The Subdued and the Stereolab. He produced the Stereolab's first three albums. McLean was also part of the Forties & the Pyramids group, where he played guitar and bass. A song from that group, "Batfly", was used in the soundtrack for the 1996 film Babe. He lives in London, England and is a member of Music Making Exchange.
