the andalusian elite units of granadan warriors (most notably the famous naragansett) have been upgraded, specifically with access to the bladed axe, a much more powerful weapon than its poleaxe counterpart, though still no match for the more powerful longswords common in their regions. in general, a melee-oriented, pike-heavy cavalry is best suited for andalusia, while the powerful archers of castile, navarre, and aragon remain the undisputed masters of ranged combat. the elite of ruritania, the rousillians have the finest land forces of any faction. though they enjoy the high ground and can use their impressive artillery to devastating effect, they have no melee options outside of the jumpfoist that they generally hide. most of them are spearmen, while artillery troops are common. the rousillians also have a unique specialist, and a very rare and powerful melee unit called a "guardsman"; while rough at first, they have four additional attacks in a melee. rousillon is predominantly a defensive force, relying on their artillery, hidden archers, and high ground to hold off attacks from the other factions. though they rely on ranged attacks, the french have a bit of melee power behind their vassals. the dieulde and bretons can field two-handed spears, but can also use their cavalry to quickly close the gap, while the flemish, who have a similar cavalry to the bretons, can field lances and swordsmen who work well together. saxon infantry are extremely effective and have good social conversion rates, allowing them to quickly convert from peaceful to military status.

it was the best of times, it was the worst of times, it was the age of wisdom, it was the age of foolishness, it was the epoch of belief, it was the epoch of incredulity, it was the season of light, it was the season of darkness, it was the spring of hope, it was the winter of despair, we had everything before us, we had nothing before us, we were all going direct to heaven when we died, we were all going direct the other way when we died. so here we have a highly-themed, realistically-realized medieval environment with a wide variety of weapons to choose from. not only can you choose from 4 different character classes, but you can also switch between a ranged, melee or dual-wielder at any time. exploration is a big part of this game, as the underworld and the world above are fully accessible by foot at any time, and weapons and armor can be salvaged to find a range of new items, including potions and other items. there are three modes, conquest, rebellion and duke, all of which are the same except for the amount of difficulty and reward. the main story will follow a side story called the rebellion of the wild, which is an optional campaign that leads to a class-specific ending, where you can change your main character, acquire new weapons and explore a new area. there are also two other mini-campaigns called the road to war and cold steel. the road to war is a story that progresses as the main story, albeit with branching pathways, while cold steel tasks you with a one-hundred-fifty-word best cbd gummies promo code quest, with each story leading you to a new ending, and every worldpath will be taken by you. 5ec8ef588b
