However, I recently downloaded the rssh client. When I try to launch the client, it says that it is unable to run the TiVo desktop. I assume that this is because the client needs the desktop to work. The problem is that I am using a laptop and cannot create a desktop as it won't work on a laptop. Therefore I am wondering how to get the file off of the hard drive, and run it through a usb drive or something, so that I can use it with the rssh client. I have tried to download it from but I can't seem to find the download on the site. I can see the instructions though.
